Oklahoma City Memorial Marathon

Why We Run

APRIL 19, 1995, a great wrong was done in Oklahoma City. However, on this day in April the forces of fear and hate were beaten by love and compassion.

The Oklahoma Memorial Marathon is a race that is not about running--it is about life.

168 banners line the marathon course, one for each victim. These banners serve to remind us as we run that we have been given the gift of life and that it is too precious to waste.

That is what the Memorial Marathon is about: realizing the preciousness of time, valuing one another, taking life as it comes and making something magic from it. CELEBRATING LIFE.

You don't have to be a runner to participate in the Memorial Marathon. All you have to do is change the world you live in one moment, one opportunity, one person at a time. It's not about running--it's about living.

A RUN TO REMEMBER

As a tribute to the 168 victims, family members and survivors of the bombing, Oklahoma City will host the 7th Annual Oklahoma City Memorial Marathon on April 29, 2007.

We run to give to the Memorial. We run to involve the community, the nation and perhaps the world in the continuing process of coping with tragedy of the past. We run as a step toward a better future.

The idea to organize a marathon as a memorial to the bombing victims and survivors, and as a fundraiser for the Oklahoma City National Memorial, came to two running partners early one morning on a training run. Those well known local runners are Thomas Hill and Chet Collier. Since then each year has brought growth and challenge. Those two runners say they credit God for getting the Memorial Marathon this far, and trust in Him to take us on.

For the marathon to truly honor the memories of the lost and serve to inspire the living to greater accomplishment, no effort is spared in making this marathon the premier running event in the nation. Whether this will be your first marathon or one of many, whether you are a beginner or an elite athlete, this will be the best marathon you have ever experienced.

Oklahoma City IS a marathon city. The Memorial Marathon is a wonderful analogy of the character of our people, the history of our trials and difficulties, and the way in which we have overcome and persevered. The Memorial Marathon provides an appropriate way for us to honor the victims and survivors while at the same time celebrating the miracle of life.

It is our hope that you will join people from all over Oklahoma, the nation and the world in giving this gift to the victims' families, the survivors, the National Memorial and our community.

THIS IS WHY WE RUN.

Spring Includes Boston Great Bill Rogers

As I write we are just about thawed out after a couple of weeks of snow, sleet and ice. I'm anxious to get back on my normal running schedule. The Run for Your Life 8K on New Year's Day was chilly, but dry and sunny. We were not so fortunate for the January 20th Chili Day Run. About 150 runners braved freezing temperatures, snow, ice, and sleet to complete the 5k and 10K events. Many were heard to comment that they had no choice, they had to get out of the house and run, "cabin fever" was driving them crazy. We appreciate the YMCA for going ahead with the event and Leadership Square for hosting it indoors.

Chet Collier with the OKC Memorial Marathon was the guest speaker for our January meeting at Ingrid's and updated us on the plans for the April event and supplied door prizes.

Let's hope the weather stays clear and warmer as we have the Sooner State Trail run on February 3rd and the Edmond Running Club Frigid Five at Mitch Park on the 10th. Be sure and come by our table at the Frigid Five, we will be serving hot oatmeal with brown sugar. Our February meeting will be back at Ingrid's on the 19th and will feature the presentation of the 2006 Series awards. If you qualified for an award by running at least 8 Series races you don't want to miss this. This year's awards will be monogrammed fleece vests from Ron's Sports World.

As was highlighted in last month's newsletter, March will bring us the Triple Crown of March Racing. The Triple Crown races will be the Creek Classic, March 3rd, the Panera Beacon on the Bay, March 10th, and the St. Paddy's Day Great Race of the Great Plains on March 17th. Special Triple Crown awards will be presented to the winners in each age group.

Don Garrett of DG Productions will be the speaker at the March meeting and will bring us up to date on the latest in timing and putting on race events.

April brings us two of the largest events of the year, the Redbud Classic and the OKC Memorial Marathon. In conjunction with his annual participation in the OKC Memorial Marathon, we are pleased to announce that "Boston Bill" Rogers will be our special guest at the April club meeting. As you are probably aware, Bill was a member of the 1976 Olympic team, a 4 time winner of the Boston Marathon and the New York Marathon, and was the #1 ranked marathoner in the world for several years in the late 1970's. To accommodate Bill's schedule our April meeting will be moved to Thursday, April 26th. We are still working on the exact time and location, but mark this important date on your schedule now.

If you want to get more involved in club activities just drop me an email, bsnipes@rcins.com. We have a number of volunteer opportunities this spring, including preparing for and conducting the Panera Beacon on the Bay and the OKC Memorial Marathon. We would love to have your participation.

Good running to all,

Bill Snipes

THE JANUARY 27 EDMOND HILLS RUN

From Landrunners website Discussion Pages

For those of you who were unable to be at the Edmond Hills run yesterday, you missed a beautiful run. I was very surprised when I arrived to a full parking lot. There were about 80 runners, ready to run in 40 degree weather.

We headed north into a cold, strong head wind, with a slight drizzle. Slowly the drizzle turned into sleet. The 5 mile turn around point brought a welcome relief from the wind. By the time we got to mile 6, a light snow was falling. I couldn't help but think, "What a great day for a hill run!" Looking around at the snow falling into the wooded sections of Sooner Road, and on the open landscape, was a great distraction from the hill work

A big THANK YOU to:

RICK SWYDEN who stood out in the weather filling cups for the runners.
BRENT GADDIS, and THE RUNNER for the water stops.

DANA CAMPBELL-STERNLOF, JOANNE JACKSON, CAROLE CALL AND THE EDMOND RUNNING CLUB provided Gatorade, bananas, a half dozen kinds of home made cookies, and other goodies. Last but certainly not least (!) JANE PACE brought her awesome Pumpkin Bread. (You can't eat just one piece...)

See you next week....Bill Goodier

Marathon Training: What Runners Are Saying

I would love to get any information regarding your weekly runs in preparation for the Oklahoma City Memorial Marathon. I used to live in Oklahoma City and I have connections to my favorite city through this marathon. I ran the inaugural run and the next two. My cousin was a drug enforcement agent killed in the bombing so I run in his memory. This will be my 9th marathon and the first in my new age group as I turn 60 in February. I wish I could meet you at Lake Hefner! But I will join you in my mind.

*Claire Phillips,
Topeka, Kansas*

No - we aren't too far away - Bixby, OK. But far enough away we wouldn't be able to come each weekend. We have three kids, 4, 3 and 1 year olds, otherwise we could try to come each weekend. But we will consider coming to one of the 20 mile runs. Thanks! Looking forward to training along side you all. This will be my first marathon - my husband's second. My sister and her husband will be with us as well, so we will all be following Landrunners training schedule.

*Adam & Heather
McPherson*

Our names are Linton (but goes by Roberto) and Gracieann Acosta. I started training for the marathon in December '04, but due to pregnancy I had to stop training in March '05. We enjoyed running the long runs on Saturdays with the group. So far this year we have been faithfully running our 20 miles a week base. I really appreciate Landrunners motivation in accomplishing the marathon goal we have set for ourselves. Later this month we will become members of the club. I think The Runner is awesome too. I always buy my running shoes there and refer a lot of my fellow colleagues there.

I am wondering if Landrunners Club is going to have a marathon training group again this year? My e-mail address is different than last year, so I was not sure. Please let me know. If so, I'm very interested and look forward to running with your WONDERFUL group again!!!

Gabriele Woods

I am glad to see some of you made it out. I had high hopes of joining you, but upon leaving my house and seeing the rain, realized I was ill equipped to run in the rain, no gear. So spent the better part of the morning looking for rain gear. Hope to see you guys out next weekend for the run.

Donna Mares

Lee Kissenger of the Edmond Running Club gave me your contact information. I would like to be put on your e-mail list. My goal right now is to run the half at the Memorial in April and then run a full in the fall, probably White Rock. Anyway, Lee suggested that I get on your list and that you have a good time with a lot of fellow runners.

Randy Nance

You said to put the 16 weeks training schedule on my refrigerator as a constant reminder. I have printed four copies. One for my car, my desk at work, and the fridge and treadmill at home.

Laura Philbin

I think I will hold off until the mileage gets higher. I am actually not a novice runner. I ran in college and have been doing it for 16 years. There have been years when I averaged 80 miles per week. Currently I range from 50-70, but am trying to get it up again. Anyhow, I am looking for a group to do longer runs with and Landrunners seems like a good fit.

RUNNING BACKWARDS

by Paul Lekawski

Remember that Valentine's Day about 10 Years Ago?

10 YEARS AGO

- The new club officers: Jim RO-BLYER, President; Sam LOY, Vice President; Suzie BOSTICK, Secretary and Tom BRIGGS, Treasurer welcomed Dr. Mike Knight, Chairman of the Psychology Department of UCO to speak on Compulsive – Obsessive Behavior. You know, sorta what runners seem to do when it gets freezing rainy outside!

- There was a Midpack Marathon-er's Lament written by the late Michael Carpenter. It read (in a rap style at a 9 min/mile pace on 2nd lap around Lake Hefner in afternoon after working all night and no sleep, cramming for the Tulsa Marathon)-

Why am I not home in bed?

What was that my mama said?

"If you try, you'll die – I'll cry – Marathoners end up dead."

Why is it that I can't quit?

Am I finally getting fit?

Then why am I too tired to spit?

Someone please call out my splits.

Why is it that I can't stop?

Call a motorcycle cop.

Let me ride on the side

To the nearest doughnut shop.

Tell me when we're having fun.

Why is it that I must run?

Is this torture almost done

Or is the rerun just begun?

When I die and go to heaven

With all my splits sub-six & seven,

I'll run forever and never get tired,

Behind Jack and Fish and Janet Myers

Unfortunately, Mike passed away on December 3, 2006 after a brief illness. He served on the Club's Board of Directors in 2003 & 2004. We'll miss him and we all hope to run with him again.

5 YEARS AGO

- We welcomed the new Club Officers: President, Nels BENTSON, Steve JOHNSON, Vice President; Marie BRESHEARS & Suzie BOSTICK, Co-Secretaries and the always reliable Tom BRIGGS, Treasurer. Joining these officers were new members to the Board of Directors: Mark BRAVO; Kim BRICKER; Jennifer GILES; Amos HARJO; Dot HENSLEY; Jennifer HOPPER; Kevin JACKSON; Jo Ann PATTERSON and Chris ROBINETT.

- The Oklahoma City Memorial Marathon was in the throes of it's second annual event and a once again a training group was being formed by Jack and Sherri RECTOR. Their training schedule hit the newsletter again and eventually they assembled more than 40 runners for the training runs.

- Paul LEE (former OCRC member and now a resident of Texas) contributed an article on how bad February was for running. But he still remembered his first run with the OKC Running Club. He had begun running on his 40th birthday in October of 1978 and entered a club race at the fairgrounds. There were about 25 that showed up on a horrible Saturday morning in the ice and thinking that he should finish near the top, he finished last in the whole group and vowed to leave immediately and never compete again. However, his car was blocked in and he had to wait until after the awards ceremony to get out. Sure enough, he had won a trophy and was hooked after that. Now that's some of the pleasure of becoming a runner and joining the Club.

- Paul LEKAWSKI contributed an article on the delight of traveling to Las Vegas to run a half-marathon on a very rare occasion as the tragedy of 9/11 rescheduled the Super Bowl for the same weekend as the race. Seemed to have left an ice storm behind in Oklahoma City, only to have most of his money "iced" in Vegas! Oh yeah, the run was great!

So RUNNING FORWARD in February should bring the normal "cooler" runs and perhaps Cupid will bring a "love" to your running and training program!

ICE STORM 2007

Maintaining Conditioning

A number of Landrunners were asked what they were doing to maintain conditioning during the 2007 Ice Storm. Below are replies we received:

My response is that I had not run outside for 10 days and I was going to the YMCA and alternating between stationary bike, weights, swimming and minimal time on the treadmill while repeating the mantra “ boring, boring, boring”

Don Smith

ENERGETIC DAYS

Make a hazardous journey out of the neighborhood at 5:15 a.m. (nobody out on the road) and drive to Mercy Hospital Health Fitness Center (about 1.5 miles) and hit the weights and treadmill for anywhere between 30 minutes & 1 hour.

NON ENERGETIC DAYS

Pull the blanket over my head and catch some more z’s. Get up and make some hot chocolate and get exercise by watching ESPN Sportscenter! Good Times! Unfortunately for me, my “naggy” wife makes me go to Mercy about 6 days a week!

Paul Lekawski

Run on the treadmill at your local health club or YMCA. Pull out the old track spikes, (or golf shoes), bundle up, and go anyway. Travel to Houston and run a marathon thus earning a recovery week!

John Oseland

I have been doing a lot of “spinning” and weight work at the gym. In addition I am trying to eat less!

Nels Bentson

I am putting a lot of time in on the elliptical trainer at the gym. I am also keeping my cardio up with aerobics, supersetting my weight training, and a little bit of kickboxing. Be careful out there Runners! See you soon!

Tracey Rose

I put on my golf shoes and run outside. Try it!

Sam Loy

I’ve done my speed and tempo sessions (using Furman First to the Finish marathon training) indoors on the treadmill at the Base gym. Tomorrow, I’ll see if I can manage an easy 4 mile run outdoors. Looks like it is a definite for snow during daylight hours Saturday. Love to run Chili, but not sure I could make it to race site safely. Running in falling snow is a blast! Maybe I’ll run 20 on Saturday in my local area.

Doug Cunningham

Hi, Don: I have been reading about the training schedules of the elite marathoners and have noticed a common aspect of their training - occasional periods of rest. Although certainly not an elite runner I decided to follow their example and reconcile myself to the fact that trying to run outside in this weather and on these surfaces is sheer (pun intended) madness. I have a treadmill, stair machine and stationary bike - all bore me to death even if watching recorded entertainment, so I am doing about a half an hour every other day on this combination. I feel like I have lost all endurance fitness and I'm going mad not being able to run outside. Best regards.

Bill Robinson

What do you mean you can't run outside now? I have run outside Saturday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday morning of this week. I ran in what would normally be grass, but is covered in sleet. It was much less slippery than the actual road.

Jane Pace

I was in Dubai running the marathon there, and missed it all! Now I'm enjoying a post-marathon rest, so inactivity doesn't bother me at all! Soon, though, I'll need to get moving again, but another storm is on the way! Maybe I'll use the indoor track at the Y, but I HATE that. Still, it's better than falling and breaking a bone.

Tom

I thought these were interesting and insightful comments. Sam put on his golf shoes with spikes to run. I guess we runners should take up golf as an added activity so that we will have a pair of those shoes available when the next storm comes along. Tracey has incorporated kickboxing into her routine. Be warned. Do not cause her to become angry with you. It showed great foresight for John and Tom to schedule those marathons at such a time that they would be in recovery mode when the storm hit. Jane just went out and "did it"--weather be damned. Thanks to all who shared their info.
